Randall has 93 majority for Governor. leaving him 202 majority over Cross, after allowing the latter the majority in the 5 Jefferson (or Dodge) County towns. L: Pointe only remains to be heard from, no returns from that county having reached Madison. That county has been conceded at 40 for Cross, though his friends have for two or three days been encouraged by a rumor of 170 majority for him to come in. Even that number, which there is no reason to look for, would not save him.

The Lake Pepin Disaster—Dunn County Returns.

Correspondence of the Daily Sentinel. Editors of Sentinel:-I wrote you a few days ago, the particulars as far as known at the time of writing, of the loss of five citizens of this County in Lake Pepin, on the night of the 18th inst. On the morning of the 29th inst. the hody of McLone was found on the Minnesota side of the Lake frozen into the ice, his head resting upon the shore, and his body mostly covered by the ice. The boat was soon afterwards found a few rods below the place where McLoxk's body was It was covered with ice, suck in about ten feat of water; the Mail Bag was safe under a seat in the boat, letters, drafts, and money much wet but at the Concerts and Opera, to the members of their way will be allowed to work through, the Ice pernot destroyed. In the mail bag was the certified official canvass of Dunn County on Its way from the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors to the State Officers, The other bodies have not yet been recovered; and there were six persons in all lost instead of five as first reported. SHORT SUPPLY.-The early and unexpected closing up of our river and bay, has shut out hundreds of tons of groceries, ac, from the eastern market, which our merchants had ordered for the winter's supply. We are told that the propeller Adriatic slone had on 400 tons of winter the winter of the w the propeller Adriatic alone had on 400 tons of frieght for this city and up river towns, which she was obliged to land in Milwankee. The Chicago boat also, which it was expected would make two m.re trips at least, with full loads, has failed from the same cause. The consequence is that our supply must come by railroad and teams this winter, increasing materially the price of most articles of consumption.—Green Bay Advectes.

More Comfort for Tax-Payers. EM. W. LAIDLAW, Land Agent &c., occupies column, or more, in the News of Saturday, in an elaborate calculation to show that the aggregate value of property in this city is fifty million of dollars; that the whole amount of tax to be received this year, is but $421,658, and that consequently, the rate of taxation is but eight and a half mills per cent. Whence, we doubt not Mr. LAIDLAW would have tax-payers infer that they have been let off "dog cheap," this year, and that our city administration is a marvel of economy, honesty and efficiency. We trust that tax payers may derive much comfort from Mr. Lalb-Law's figures, and after digesting them, feel equal to the effort of calling at the City Treasurer's Office, and settling their little bills.

But we have a word to say to Mr. LAIDLAW on this subject. His professed motive for appearing at full length, in the News, is to correct the following statement in the New York Herald of the

"The valuation of property in Milwaukee is $6,441,235, and the amount of taxes to be raised for city purposes is $500,794 87, being about 478 per cent. In addition to this, the County and State taxes amount to $118,208 43, making the grand total $419,663 30." Mr. LAIDLAW does not doubt that these figures were copied from the Sentinel. Mr. LAIDLAW, for a wonder, is right in this conjecture. But, encouraged by the success of his first guess, Mr. LAIDLAW proceeds to an assertion as follows: Said article in the "Sentinel" was written with the view of showing the city of Milwankee to be worth $6,441,285—and also that under the present Democratic City Government, our city taxes to be raised for the current year amount to 4.7-8 per cent. on the real valuation of our city property, "Said article" was written with no such purpose, nor was there in in it any shadow of pretence that the sum of $6.441.235 represented "the real valuation of our city property."-Everybody, even Mr. Laidlaw, knows better .-

our city property, and the rate of taxation there-on is precisely what we stated it. Mr. Ladlaw, however, moved by a desire to correct what he calls a 'misrepresentation' of the Sentinel, "contributes his mite"—and a very little one it is-to set the world right on this sub ject. But the only "misrepresentation" in the case is that made by Mr. Laidlaw bimself. The figures given in the Sentinel were official and correct. These "contributed" by Mr. Laidlaw are merely hypothetical and possibly erroneous, We advise him to amend his declaration, and recall his "mite."

"Hear and Obey. " The Washington Union, central organ of the government of the faithful:

"National Democracy," issues, in a recent number, this imperative edict for the instruction and government of the faithful:

"An houest difference of opinion as to whether the Kaneas Convention should have submitted to popular ratification the whole or the great essential part of the Constitution framed by them may be tolerated; but the entire Democratic press will hold no Democrat guiltiess who ecoks to promote his peculiar views by "associations with Black Republicanism in any form." To sanction even for a noment the sectional objects, or to adont even for a temporary purpose

Whatever difference of opinions may have been entertained and expressed hitherto in this State, in relation to matters transpiring in Kansas, we do not believe there is a Senatorial of Assembly district in the State which wouldnot vote by a large majority,—and many of them would vote unanimously upon the subject—instruct is representative to vote for a protest, drawn in strong terms, against the perpetration of the contemplated outrage upon the people of Kansas, by forcing upon them a Constitution upon which be contemplated outrage upon the people of Kansas, by forcing upon them a Constitution upon which contemplated outrage upon the people of Kansas, by forcing upon them a Constitution upon which contemplated outrage upon the people of Kansas, by forcing upon them a Constitution upon which contemplated outrage upon the people of Kansas, by forcing upon them a Constitution upon which contemplated outrage upon the people of Kansas, by forcing upon them a Constitution upon which contemplated outrage upon the people of Kansas, by forcing upon them a Constitution upon which contemplated outrage upon the people of Kansas, by forcing upon them a Constitution upon which contemplated outrage upon the people of Kansas, by forcing upon them a Constitution upon which contemplated outrage upon the people of Kansas, by forcing upon them a Constitution upon which contemplated outrage upon the people of Kansas, by forcing upon them a Constitution upon which contemplated outrage upon the people of Kansas, by forcing upon them a Constitution upon which where and reflectly special to the time them to the time the Whatever difference of or by forcing upon them a Constitution upon which they have no opportunity to pass by the ballot. This being the case, we trust that, immediately on the assembling of the Legislature, a committee may be raised and resolutions including such a protest, prepared and passed at once, and fora protest, preparet and passed at once, and nor, and a conversation with a merciant, warded to Washington. It is quite possible, that, inasmuch as our Legislature does not meet till January 18th, the acceptance or rejection of that Constitution by Congress, will have been made; but if the matter is not settled, it is proper that an emphatic representation of the sentiment of Wiscousin on the subject should be timent of Wisconsin on the subject should be made and forwarded as suggested.

sticklestppi and Goy, Walker.

The Mississippi Legislature did not adjourn without indersing in the most emphatic and unqualified manner the resolutions censuring and denouncing Governor Robert J. Walker, passed by the convention of the Democracy of the State beld at Jackson in June last. The legislature not only did not lower the standard raised by the Democracy at the commencement of the late canvass; but it went further and declared that

Mormons and Indians Butchering Emigrants

We have had accounts of the massacre of an migrant train between Salt Lake City and Los Augelos, California, in which over one hundred persons including, some sixty women and children, lost their lives. A meeting was held at Los Angelos to investigate the matter, and a statement of Mr. George Powers, who crossed the Plains just behind the slaughtered train, was ubmitted to the meeting.

He stated that the Mormons alleged that the emigrants were insuiting towards them—calling the Mormon women ill names-and at a place called Corn Crock, near Cedar, and in the Mormon country, an ox died, and the Indians asking for it, the careass was given to them. The Indians cleim, however-on the strength of an assertion made by a Mormon—that before the ox was given to the Indians, an emigrant cut into the meat and poured a vial full of liquid into the flesh, and that thus the Indians who ate of it were poisoned. Other Indians assert that the Mormons themselves gave the Indians poisoned water-melons. What the truth is cannot be known, but there is much reason to suppose that the Mormons incited the Indians to the massacre and then divided the spoils.

A. Mr. Warn, who followed, stated that h conversed with one of the war chiefs, who said that his people had not been poisoned, though some of them had died.

Mr. Powers says that Dame, an old Mormon, said that he could have raised a force to rescue the train, but that he dare not disobey the Mormon Council. The slaughter took place on the 14th of September. Mr Powers says:

14th of September. Mr Powers says:

On Saturday, at twelve o'clock, we left Cedar City. About the middle of the afternoon we met the four men who were sent out the night previous, returning in a wagon. They said the entire train had been cut off, and, as it was still dangerous to travel the road, they concluded it was better for us to pass in the night. We continued on without much conversation, and about midnight met Mr. Dame, and three other white men coming from the seene of slaughter, in commidnight met Mr. Dame, and three other white men; coming from the scene of slaughter, in company with a band of some twenty Indian warn riors. One of the men in company with Mr. Dame, was Mr. Haight, Mormon President of Cadar City. Mr. Dame said-they had been out to the burying of the dead; but the dead were not buried. From what I heard, I beleive the bodies were lying naked upon the ground having been stripped of their clothing by the Indians.—

These Indians had a two horse wagon, driven by a white man, and beside him, there were two to three Indians in it. Many of them had shawls and bundles of women's clothes were tied to their addles. They were also supplied with guns, or saddles. They were also supplied with guns, or istole, besides bows and acrows. The hindings indians were driving several head oft he emigrants cattle. Mr. Dame and Mr. Haight, and their cattle. Mr. Jame and Mr. Haight, and their men, seemed to be on the best of terms with the Indians, and they were all in high spirits, as if they were mutually pleased with the accomplishment of some desired object. They thronged around us, and greated us with noisy cordiality. We did not learn much from them. They passed on, and we drove all night in silence, and at daylight camped, and were told we were three miles beyond the scene of slaughter. The sum named was the assessed valuation of miles beyond the scene of slaughter.

Mr. Powers and his train has arrived at Sau for Powers and the trait has arrived to she former ine, and he was adviced by Mr Mathews, who, he learned, was a President, or Elder in that place, not to associate with the "damaged apostates"; that they were cut-throats of the worst character. If he wished, they would give him constant work at their mill in the mountains, and the state of the president and the state of what constant work at their mill in the mountains, and he must be careful not to talk to much, of what he had seen. While in San Bernardine, he heard many nersons express gratification at the heard many nersons express gratification at the ne had seen. Hent occupied the pulpit, and, among other things, he said that the hand of the Lord was in it; whether it was come by white or red skins, it was right! The prophecsies concerning Missouri were being fulfilled, and they would all be acqueinledd. Mr. Mathews said the work had just begun, and it should be carried on until Upcle Sam and all his boys that were left should some to Gion and her for bread.

The Duran County Returns.

A list of several towns were given in the Pepin paper of Nov. 7th, including the town of Randall, which was given at 64 majority for Randall. Including this town, Randall had 111 majority in the county. It tuens up that Randall town is not in Duan county, but is returned at Half Moon Lake, in Eau Claire county—which is the official name of the preciner, and gives Randall 55 majority. By subtracting the 64 in "Randall town" from 111 in Duan Co., it leaves Randall's majority in the county at 67—about what we are informed it actually is, and this 50 or 40 more than the majority on the balance of the ticket,—Madison Patriot.

The State paper seems exceedingly services.

The State paper seems exceedingly anxious to cipher down the Republican majority in Dunnal County, But it must mend its figures, before it can do so successfully. Our correspondent at Pepin, under date of Nov. 9th, (two days later then the paper cited by the Argus) sent us the following returns, which do not include "the town of Randall."

Before his family left Sait Lake, vague declarations of a threatening character were made, to the effect that, next year, "the overland emigrants must look out;" and it was even insinuated that the last trains this year might be destroyed. From the Mormon train which recently left Carson falley, and which these families met on their way, similar statements were vaguely communicated, one Mormon woman eren going so far as to congratulate an old lady in one of these families upon her safe arrival so near her destination, and assuring her that "the last trains of this year would not get through so well, for of this year would not get through so well, for they were to be cut of?" We give these state-ments as we received them from members of these families, and, admitting their correctness, which we have no reason to doubt, they certainly will go far to confirm a torrible suspicion.

Assembling of American English, French and Russian Ambassacors and Fleets in the China Seas-Their several Instructions and Objects.

Washington, Nov. 25. Our envoy to China, Mr. Reed, has by this Our envoy to Chinn, Mr. Reed, has by this time reached his destination, and it is not improbable that, at the same time, Lord Elgin will have returned to Hong Kong. The French ambassador, M. Gros, and the Russian ambassador, Admiral Pituatine, no doubt arrived it time to meet them. An English, a French, an American, and a Russian fleet are now assembled in the China seas. The ministers of these different powers have seperate instructions, and perhaps different objects; but still it is understood they will unite for the purpose of securing for their respective countries, and for the whole commercial world, a more liberal commercial intercourse. oial world a more liberal commercial intercourse with the Slowery Land than they have hitherto enjoyed.

It would appear that Admiral Pituatine, who It would appear that Admiral Pituatine, who was sent some nine months ago upon an embassy to Pekin, and had awaited on the frontier the imperial permission for his reception at that city, was repelled and obliged to abandon his mission. His objects were different from that of England, as ho was charged with a demand for the edjustment of some frontier difficulties which had occurred between the Chinese and the subjects of Russia; also with mutters respecting the Russian ecclesiastical establishment in Pekin; but he was also instructed to co-coerate, as far as he Disappointed in this, the Admiral was ordered to join the fiset at the Amoor bay, and proceed to the China shas.

There is every reason to beliuve from these and and other circumstances, that Russia will hereafter be disposed to co operate more cordially with England in hostility to the Imperial Government at Perkin, At the same time it is seen that Russia is fillibustering upon the northern frontier of China, and has recently annexed to be empire four Mongol tribes, which were hithertosubjects of China. While Russia is thus making her way into the Chinese territory, she is guardsubjects of Onina. While Russia is thus making her way into the Chinese territory, she is guard-ing against the hostility of the Celestids by ca-tablishing a line of fortresses along the China frontier.

Lord Elgis, it is said, upon his arrival at Hong Kong, tendered negotiation to the Emperor, and offered to proceed to Pekin for that purpose, but was repulsed more rudely than was the Russian was repulsed. Thereupon he simply blockaded the Canton river, sealing the port sgainst foreign commerce. Meanwhile, the Euperor has accepted the threatened war of England by avowing and approving all the acts of the Commissioner

They are alroady in possession of the second city of the kinpire, and were making arrangements to assail the inst—that is, the Imperial residence, Pekin.—The only await for this purpose the means of commanding the northern seaceast; and this they will do very readily, by combining with the allied enemies of the Emperor—England, France and Russia.

THE QUESTION OF AUTHORITY.-The National ntelligencer calls attention to the misapprehension which exists in some quarters in regard to the authority under which the Constitutional Conention of Kansas assembled. The President, if he has been correctly reported, sustains that Congovernment of the faithful:

"An honest difference of opinion as to whether the Karseas Goavention should have submitted to popular ratification the whole or the great essential part of the Consultation framed by them may be tolerated; but the entire Democratic press will hold no Democratic press will be defined by the press will hold no Democratic press will hold not be the many to be the press will hold not press will hold not be the many to be the press will be the press will hold not be the press will hold vention on the ground that it was authorized by

So, while our Democratic Administration is engaged in riveting still more strongly the fetters of the slave, and extending the institution into free territorry, the despot of Russia is breaking the shackles of his people who have been enslaved, and bidding them go free!

COLORED MEN KIDNAPPED .- The Albany Eve. Journal states that two colored men, residents of Geneva, New York, having been inveigled into the Southern part of Ohio, were taken to Kentucky and sold into Slavery by a set of hourtless scoundrels, and one of the negroes has been sold again probably to go South, for nine hundred dollars. The other one is in iail in Kentucky,-Gov. King has commissioned Calvin Walker, Esq., of Geneva; to proceed to Kentucky and endeavor to rescue the unfortunate men. There ie, we learn, some hope of scresting the kidnappers also; but whether the authorities of Kentucky will take any action in the matter is doubt-

From Washington

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Dec. 1, 1857.
At the Cabinet incetting to-day the Kanass question was discussed. A number of leading outhern Democrats have arrived within aday Southern Democrate have arrived within a day or two, and their influence upon the counsels of the Administration is always very manifest. The Lecompton Constitution is to be forced upon Kansas if it can be got through Congress by the most estingent party drill. The South insists upon it, and the Administration acquiesces.— Personal as well as purty considerations have tended to produce this decision. It is considered a good opportunity to check the sepirations of Governor Walker and Senator Douglas, and to purify the party from the remnants of Free-State sentiments. Governor Walker, if not removed, will have a policy in Kansas prescribed to him which he cannot follow, and which will compel his resignation. It is thought that the Free-State men of Kansas can be induced to vote on the 21st of December, and if they do vote, the calculation is that Congress will admit Kansas as a nominally Free State, the South being satisfied with the recognition of perpetual property in slaves.—N. It was at Pola that Constantine caused his son Crispus to be put to death, a deed that has left an indelible blot on the memory of the first Christian emperor. After being held by the Venetians, the Pissans, and the Genoese, Pola passed finally into the hands of the first named people, who held it until the destruction rola passed inally into the hands of the irst named people, who held it until the destruction of their country. It formed a portion of Napoen's widely extended empire, and he had thoughts of making it one of his principal naval stations, with a view to supremacy over the Adricatic. Istria passed into the hands of Austria in 1815, and the government of that empire has not been slow to perceive that Pola's raval advan-tages point it out as a proper place to be im-proved. It is now Austria's principal naval port,

The World Moyes.—In 1850 Senator Seward pursued his journey from Auburn to the Senate Chambor without the company of a single sympathysing political friend. Mark the change! Now he is joined at Albany by his own collasgue, Preston King, by Solomon Foot and Jacob Collamer of Vermont. At New York he meets Senators Hanila and Fessendan of Maine, Hals and Clark of New Hampshire, Summer and Wilson of Massachusetta, Foster and Dixon of Connecticut, and Simmons of Rhode Island. At Philadelphia and Baltimore the company is further increased by Cameron of Pennsylvania, Wade of Obio, Chandler of Michigan, Trumbull of Illinois, Harlan of Iowa, and Durkee and Dollittle of Wisconsip. Instead of a solitary No in the Senate Chamber to the demands of the Slave Power, its walls will now echo to twenty voices. the Senate Chamber to the demands of the Slave Power, its walls will now echo to twenty voices. This number will soon be swelled by a new Senator from Iowa, and we trust two from Kansas, and perhaps, if rumor proves true, one from California. Verily we may take courage and work on. The Right must surely triumph.—
